We can produce any design from you

Step 1 - Marking up for Stenciling
A few registration marks can be useful for positioning your stencil - use a pencil and spirit level or ruler to make a few horizontal and/or vertical registration marks in which to position the stencil.

Step 2 - Position the Stencil
To position the stencil line up the top and sides of the stencil sheet with the registration pencil guides you have made - this will ensure the stencil is straight within the stenciling area.

Step 3 - Stenciling with Stencil Roller
Gently roll the stencil roller over the secured stencil covering all cut-out shapes with paint. Be load the stencil roller as necessary until the whole of the design is covered. Then go back over the stencil again to build up opacity and eliminate any roller lines. As you build up successive coats you can work with a little more paint as the stencil edges will be sealed and less likely to bleed.

Step 4 - Removing the stencil
Once you have completed the stenciling and applied as of the chosen colours and finishes, carefully peel the stencil away from the surface and allow the paint to dry. To store your stencil lay it flat on a large sheet of paper and smooth it down to stick to the paper - the original registration spray adhesive on the reverse side of the stencil sheet will keep it in place. Store flat.

Step 3 - Load up Stencil Roller with paint
Stencil Rollers are very good for stenciling larger areas in simple colours as they speed up the stenciling process. They are also excellent for intricate, delicate stencils as they do not build up delicate sections of the stencil, eliminating possible snagging. To load the paint onto the roller dip into the paint and work over the plate or tile until the whole roller is covered.

Step 4 - Removing excess paint from roller
Once the whole of the stencil roller has been covered in paint, work the excess paint off by the stencil roller by rolling it over some kitchen towel. It is better to start stenciling with a nearly dry stencil roller as this will prevent paint seeping under the cut out areas of the stencil shapes. Protect the surface underneath the kitchen towel with some plastic or other waterproof material.
